ABOUT RKEO X

FOUNDER: Jared Murphy

CO-FOUNDERS: Kristi Bass and Tom Elmore

The RKEO X team investigates ancient mysteries, ruins, the paranormal & UFO activity. We bring with us lidar, ground penetrating radar (GPR), frequency and wave technology to investigate dynastic cultural ruins and to further acknowledge one of the most ancient and mysterious pre-flood societies that existed prior to the biblical flood or Younger Dryas. The data and field work are processed and implemented into developing educational programs for the United States school system and for the countries RKEO X works in.

RKEO X is also doing humanitarian work around the local communities that surround these ruins, bringing work, clean water, and addressing local heritage and preservation concerns. Archeological theft is a concern near all ancient sites. RKEO X has located archeological theft operations, assisting in the process of recovering millions in artifacts.

THE RKEO X PODCAST

On the RKEO X Podcast, we dive deep into the mysteries of ancient civilizations, explore the latest archaeological discoveries, and attempt to bridge the gap between our consciousness and how it operates within our physical universe. We discuss all aspects of RKEO X, as well as our own personal interests from ancient history, consciousness, and the paranormal to UFO activities and biohacking. One of the most unique and fun aspects is that these are not only conversational topics, but they are all of deep personal interest and exploration for Kristi and Jared.
